

Stream No. 5 (2 notices) North head Port Chalmers, Montague Is.
Is 12 feet wide and 7 inches deep and is at the head of 2 lagoons, with narrow, shallow entrances.
Has a good, fine gravel bottom, and follows a grass flat for about 1/2 mile and is accessible for fish that far.
Aug. 12, 1925: About same amount.
Aug. 24, 1926: 6,000 fish all told, --1/3 dogs.
Sept. 6, 1927: 12,000 fish.

Stream No. 5A North end Port Chalmers. Outside Harbor.
Is 10 feet wide and 5 inches deep.
Has a good, rather coarse gravel bed.
Accessible 1/4 mile.
Sept. 7, 1926: 5,000 fish.

Stream No. 6 (1 notice) Port Chalmers.
Is 9 feet wide and 3 inches deep.
At mouth rough rock a short way, then fine gravel bottom,
some wide deeper holes.
Accessible 1,500 feet, then splits up.
Aug. 24, 1926: 3,800 fish all told.
Sept. 6, 1927: 5,000 fish.

Stream No. 7 (1 notice) Port Chalmers, Montague Island.
Is 10 feet wide and 6 inches deep.
Has fine gravel near mouth; coarser further up.
Lots of dogs in all these streams July 15, 1926.
Accessible about 1,000 feet. Fish only up 800 feet.
August 20, 1926: 1,500 fish alive and dead, all estimates,
including dead.
Sept. 6, 1927: 9,600 fish.

Stream No. 8 (1 notice) Port Chalmers.
Is 9 feet wide and 4 inches deep.
Has a coarse gravel bottom and some wide places deeper.
Accessible about 1/4 mile.
Aug. 24, 1926: 2,000 fish. Dead ones mostly dogs.
Sept. 6, 1927: 4,300 fish.